ATR VERDICT: After a winning debut at Newcastle and a good second at Ascot, TOUSSAROK was disappointing in a valuable handicap at York last month. However, Mark Johnston's colt probably wants better ground than that and he is worth another chance now back in novice company on a sounder surface. Conservatoire is a half-sister to a useful 7f winner and warrants the utmost respect on debut in the Cheveley Park silks for William Haggas, while Minsky defied odds of 80/1 when a fair fourth at Wolverhampton last week and there could be more to come from him.

ATR VERDICT: SOARING STAR got off the mark on his most recent outing at Ayr and that success might have provided the confidence boost required for Kevin Ryan's gelding for him to kick on. Trinity Lake is off the same mark as when third at York in July over this distance and he can enter calculations along with Zap, who drops in grade following his most recent effort at Sandown.

ATR VERDICT: Having a disappointing Goodwood run following a promising near-miss in a 6f maiden at HQ, MAJD AL ARAB emphatically bounced back to form with a facile triumph over this trip at Chelmsford 12 days ago and he is fancied to continue his progress here. A mark of 76 looks fair with further progress expected and Mark Johnston's charge can follow up at the main expense of Ajrad, who has made the frame on both starts so far at Ascot and here (both over 7f) and is certainly respected off the same mark as the selection. Kingmania rates best of the rest.

ATR VERDICT: LEXINGTON FORCE has achieved a decent standard in two runs to date at Kempton, having won on debut before finishing second under a penalty. Richard Hannon's colt is entitled to step forward again making his handicap bow off what appears a fair mark of 85. Harry George arrives in excellent form having won three of his last four outings and he is respected long with Eagle Court, who isn't yet the finished article based on his Ayr effort last month.

ATR VERDICT: MECCA'S HOT STEPS brings plenty of experience to the table and has been hammering on the door of late over 5f. The return to further could be the key to unlocking a first success as she looks to capitalise on her fine form this term. Desert Palms is interesting dropping back in trip on his first outing for Paul Midgley, having run with credit to finish fourth in a handicap on his final start for Richard Hannon. Al Tarmaah is respected representing powerful connections, with Wallgate the pick of the newcomers.

ATR VERDICT: BEN LILLY has thrived since being stepped up in distance and built on a near-miss at Southwell over 1m4f when romping to a bloodless nine-length victory over 1m6f at Catterick last week. David Brown's three-year-old could prove hard to stop under a 6lb penalty if in the same form. The application of cheekpieces helped Flash Point to take advantage of a lenient-looking mark at Musselburgh earlier this month and he is respected under a 5lb penalty, while track-and-trip winners The Fiddler and Nearly There could offer plenty of value for each-way players.

ATR VERDICT: TWENTYSHARESOFGREY has rattled the crossbar over 7f here the last twice and the consistent youngster is likely to be competitive at the business end once again stepping up to a mile. Devil's Cub wasn't beaten far in his quest for back-to-back victories at Chepstow last week and has to be given plenty of respect, while Harrier Hawk is an interesting recruit to this sphere following a promising second in a Chelmsford maiden.

ATR VERDICT: LEAPAWAY was pulled up early at Uttoxeter after the saddle slipped but he had run with credit the time before when fourth at Newton Abbot and Philip Hobbs' gelding can get off the mark over fences here. Return Ticket has a fair amount of ability and is likely to be in the mix following his second at Perth last month, while the third from that contest, Siannes Star, completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: WITCH HUNT took a huge step forward when beaten less than a length on his return to the track at Lingfield in June and the Lawman colt won't need to find too much improvement to get of the mark now. Driving Force looks a winner in the making but shaped like he may need further than this to be seen at his best when fourth over track and trip on debut, while Pretty Pickle is foolish to ignore for a top stable despite some disappointing efforts most recently.

ATR VERDICT: BALMUICK makes plenty of appeal on his racecourse debut as he represents top connections and has a pedigree that suggests he could possess too much speed for his more stoutly-bred opponents. Cochisee boasts the service of champion jockey Brian Hughes and hails from a stable that are capable of readying one, while the booking of Richard Johnson on Get On John has to be noted.

ATR VERDICT: Having a disappointing Goodwood run following a promising near-miss in a 6f maiden at HQ, MAJD AL ARAB emphatically bounced back to form with a facile triumph over this trip at Chelmsford 12 days ago and he is fancied to continue his progress here. A mark of 76 looks fair with further progress expected and Mark Johnston's charge can follow up at the main expense of Ajrad, who has made the frame on both starts so far at Ascot and here (both over 7f) and is certainly respected off the same mark as the selection. Kingmania rates best of the rest.
