ATR VERDICT: Providing she goes on the forecast soft ground, handicap debutant QIPAO could prove tough to beat. She has performed respectably at pattern level the last twice and dropping in class, off a fair mark of 86, may do the trick. Way To Win bolted up on a similar surface on his penultimate start and he must enter calculations, while General Panic has claims on his latest effort.

Top Tip: QIPAO (1)

ATR VERDICT: NOBLE TRUTH was just denied in the Group 1 Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere at Longchamp earlier this month and he can strike returning to calmer waters. Dubai Poet should be suited by the return to this course and merits respect, while Light Infantry is another to consider after an impressive debut win at Yarmouth. Tacarib Bay shouldn't mind the ground and may go well at longer odds.

ATR VERDICT: Siskany was an impressive winner when scoring in a competitive handicap at Newmarket and he could be open to further improvement stepping up in grade. However, a chance is taken on MORANDO who should be suited by the return to this distance and he will appreciate any ease in conditions. Ilaraab will need to show more after a respectable third-placed effort at Ascot, while Extra Elusive is another to note and can certainly win if bouncing back to his best.

Long Handicap: Shanghai Dragon 8 - 1

ATR VERDICT: Jessica Harrington is strongly represented here by TUT TUT and Nectaris, who both ran in the valuable Irish EBF Auction Series Final at Naas last Sunday. It's best to put a line through that run for the former after her saddle slipped and it's noteworthy that Shane Foley sticks with the C&D maiden winner. She also landed a Listowel Premier Nursery and appreciates cut in the ground. Nectaris justified favouritism in a Galway Festival maiden and has put in two solid efforts since. Nectarine won a mile nursery in decisive fashion here last Saturday but will find life tougher off an 8lb higher mark.

Watch out for: NECTARIS (2)
