ATR VERDICT: Evaluation has proved a revelation in winning four successive handicaps since joining Keith Dalglish but a 5lb penalty in such a devilishly competitive event may just prove too much. There may be better value in siding with one of his recent victims in GEREMIA, who got no sort of run at Musselburgh last time, having previously shaped as being on the upgrade when a strong-finishing third after meeting trouble in running at York. Zealandia and Zoffee both bring winning form to the table and also have to go on the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: A C&D winner in his juvenile campaign, NAVELLO's prominent style of racing could prove critical in this small-field scenario. The three-year-old is turned out quickly following a creditable run in the Palace Of Holyroodhouse at Royal Ascot (0-105) and he's taken to regain the winning thread now eased in class. Glory Fighter is unlikely to be far away, having hit the crossbar on his two latest starts, along with the top-weighted Gabriel The Devil.

ATR VERDICT: MY OBERON might take a bit of beating if he runs up to a rating of 113. William Haggas' horses have been flying all season and this colt seems to have improved this year on the evidence of his victories at Southwell and Newcastle. The improving Modern News is unlikely to be far away following a good second in the Diomed Stakes at Epsom, while both Perotto and Tyrrhenian Sea will need more.

ATR VERDICT: All eyes will be on superstar stayer Trueshan as he again bids to defy a mammoth weight after last year's brave sixth-placed effort and it's not hard to envisage him being heavily involved once again after unsuitable fast ground saw him sidestep Royal Ascot. Rajinsky, last year's third, could also make his presence felt despite a higher mark after advertising his well-being with a placed effort in the Chester Cup, but preference is for last year's fourth ISLAND BRAVE, who gets the benefit of brilliant apprentice Benoit De La Sayette's 5lb allowance and appears to have been laid out for the race. Onesmoothoperator loves it at Newcastle and should also figure high on the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: Tuesday bids to become the first filly since Balanchine in 1994 to beat her male counterparts and Aidan O'Brien's sole representative arrives having just denied Emily Upjohn in the Oaks at Epsom. She could have more to offer, with that being her first effort over further than a mile, but WESTOVER, who was third in the Derby, shades the vote. The son of Frankel was hampered at a crucial point and the manner in which he finished off suggests the stiffer finish here will play to his strengths. Piz Badile (12th) didn't appear to handle Epsom and is worth another chance, while Hannibal Barca and Lionel are others who are capable of progressing further.
