ATR VERDICT: FLEMENSREVA showed much improved form when second over course and distance last month. Stepping up to this trip clearly suited and she can go one place better off a 2lb higher mark. More Info is from a good family and the bumper winner ran well on her second start after two years out of action when fifth to a subsequent winner at Punchestown. That was over 2m3f and she may be capable of better over this longer trip. A Dublin Job has plenty of stamina and was beaten less than a length over this trip at Tipperary last year. He was still battling away in second when coming down at the final flight at Downpatrick last month and the locally-trained gelding can contend again.

Top Tip: FLEMENSREVA (11)

ATR VERDICT: NARMAR has form and seems progressive. From a top Aga Khan staying family, he ran well behind subsequent Irish 2,000 Guineas sixth Quar Shamar in April and a reproduction of his good Killarney run would give him every chance. Sea Gardens ran with promise on juvenile debut but his reappearance run at Cork was disappointing, with his rider reporting he became unbalanced in the final furlong. He returns from a 44-day mini-break but is on a retrieval mission. Livio Milo is race-fit but needs to improve in a first-time visor, while Ninth Life has a similar profile and might struggle to win. Highland Rahy outran his odds at Gowran but faces a tough enough task, while Autoline was well held on debut.

ATR VERDICT: PRINCESS SOPHIA made a winning start for her new trainer Ciaran Murphy at Punchestown and can follow up from a 7lb higher mark. A first-time hood helped her to settle and front-running tactics are likely to be employed again around this sharp circuit. Movie King chased home the selection and then went one better at Down Royal on Friday evening. He has won on the Polytrack at Dundalk and good ground is right up his street. Hidalgo Des Mottes ran his best race so far when third at Tipperary last month and this lightly-raced six-year-old is open to further improvement.

ATR VERDICT: PRIORY PARK bumped into an improver when second to Brideswell Lad at Tramore in mid-April and may be able to collect now. The Dylan Thomas gelding was well backed then and stayed on well to the line without getting to the winner. He has won on nice ground in the past and the trip looks fine for him. Broken Ice showed significant improvement when just failing to peg back Stealthy Tom in Killarney last time. If he can reproduce that effort, he's a big player. Shes Some Doll has been knocking on the door and looks place material.

Top Tip: PRIORY PARK (6)

Watch out for: BROKEN ICE (4)

ATR VERDICT: These races are perfect for a horse like TAIPAN, who has a lofty enough rating, and he looks like the one to beat. The Frankel gelding ran out a cosy winner of another conditions event over 1m6f at Killarney last time and this looks like an ideal opportunity to get another win under his belt. The 92-rated Female Soldier would appear to be the main danger on paper. She was fifth behind the selection last time and has a nice turnaround at the weights now. As well as getting a 10lb pull this time, Adam Ryan takes a further 7lb off her back. Ace Aussie could be given a chance off his rating of 87, but hasn't been in great form over jumps in recent starts and has a bit to prove.

Top Tip: TAIPAN (1)

Watch out for: FEMALE SOLDIER (11)

ATR VERDICT: Willie Mullins is hard to oppose in bumpers at the minute and NINTH LOCH can give him another winner. The Footstepsinthesand gelding shaped with promise when fourth on his debut at Punchestown and this looks an easier task now. Gordon Elliott saddles Arabian Diamond and he could be a danger. The Getaway gelding was no match for another Mullins runner in Readin Tommy Wrong at Ballinrobe last time, but it was still a solid effort to fill the runner-up spot. Kalanisi Flash was also second last time, chasing home The Wallpark at Downpatrick, and is another for the shortlist.

Top Tip: NINTH LOCH (7)

Watch out for: ARABIAN DIAMOND (1)
