ATR VERDICT: CONCETTO proved a different proposition in first-time blinkers when landing the spoils at Huntingdon at the start of this month. The seven-year-old should take all the beating if the retained headgear has the same effect, with a 6lb rise in the ratings looking manageable. The hat-trick seeking duo of One True King and Flash Gorcombe are sure to have their supporters too, with the former feared most given his experience over C&D.

ATR VERDICT: VINCE L'AMOUR benefited a lot from his return over C&D when running out a hugely impressive winner at Ripon last Thursday, and connections take the option of running under a 6lb penalty before the handicapper reassesses. La Boo has performed with promise on several occasions and may have more to offer on her handicap debut, while others for the shortlist include Moyola and Law Of Average.

ATR VERDICT: GIULIETTA returned from a 105-day break to hit the frame in this grade at Taunton last month and she is only 11lb higher for that display. Dan Skelton's seven-year-old should have no issues with this slight drop in distance and she can get her career up and running. The main threat might be Of Course You Can, who has shown some promise in her three attempts over hurdles thus far, and she could have a say on her handicap bow. Ici La Reine completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: Previous C&D winner SUGARPIEHONEYBUNCH performed well when fourth back over this trip here three weeks ago and looks worth another chance with the likely deep ground in her favour. The Dancing Poet, already a three-time C&D winner, has form that ties in with the selection and cannot be ruled out, while Corsican Caper is also well treated and warrants a betting check.

ATR VERDICT: SEA THE POLARIS has handled varying ground conditions and notably showed plenty of promise on debut over this trip in testing conditions at the Galway Festival last summer. Not a lot went right for the son of Sea The Stars as he was slowly away and also met trouble in running before finishing well when runner-up to Mythology. The selection should have benefitted from a recent outing when third at Dundalk. Thor's Hammer is the obvious threat having filled the runner-up spot twice in maidens with cut in the ground last year and was also far from disgraced in the Goffs Million at the Curragh. Any support for newcomer Robbies Rock would be interesting.

ATR VERDICT: Origintrail is a player in this company and warrants a betting check on her first run of the season, while Tyger Bay is back on turf off a competitive rating and rates a serious contender on these terms. However, LITTLE MUDDY, who runs off 3lb below her last winning mark, created a favourable impression when finishing third on her seasonal debut at Doncaster last month. She has likely benefitted from that run and this could be a good time to catch the eight-year-old.

ATR VERDICT: BEAUTY CHOICE had the reopposing Mutanaaseq (third) just over two lengths behind when scoring over C&D last time out, and the seven-year-old can follow up despite being 4lb worse off at the weights with that rival. Winless since August 2022, Buckshaw Village bounced back to form with a strong runner-up effort at Thirsk earlier in the month and is noted along with Wreck It Ryley.

ATR VERDICT: MASTER GARVEY was placed on a number of occasions last year including over C&D and has returned in fine form this season backing up a highly creditable third at the Curragh by opening his account over this trip at Naas. The selection was well clear inside the final furlong before just holding on from Spring Collection with a five-length gap back to the third and he's taken to defy a 9lb rise in the ratings. Manhattan Dandy was sixth in that Naas handicap and gave the form a boost when subsequently prominent throughout to land a 16-runner event at Leopardstown. Adhuil went close here last autumn and is a nice first ride for Rebecca Parsons, while Summer Snow and Barnhill Rose are others to note.

ATR VERDICT: This can go the way of LOUBIERE, who may have disappointed last time out but is better judged on her penultimate effort when second over 1m at Newcastle. Rebecca Menzies' charge showed promise on the turf last season and this looks like a good opportunity to get off the mark, with recent Chelmsford runner-up Clionia the main danger. Havana Prince and the unexposed handicap debutant Jesmond Dawn cannot be ruled out either.

ATR VERDICT: EXPRESSOVA showed a liking for these ground conditions last year when winning at Cork for Sheila Lavery and wound up the season with a creditable fourth to Zephron in a 22-runner Curragh handicap over this trip. She was sold for 135,000gns last December to join Joseph O'Brien. All Lies Ahead gained her second career win when successful over this trip on heavy ground at Leopardstown 12 months ago. She went close to adding to that tally a couple of times last autumn and was slowly away when reappearing in a Listed race at the Cork Easter meeting. Lady Arwen has won twice at this venue including over a mile last September, while Gypsy Woman has shown her best form on good ground.

ATR VERDICT: JOLIE COEUR ALLEN ought to be able to do some damage off a mark of 109 on her handicap debut. A debut fifth in a Grade 2 bumper showed the esteem she's held in and, although she hasn't got her head in front in three runs over flights, her third in Fairyhouse got a boost when the winner finished runner-up in a Grade 1 mares' novices' hurdle at Fairyhouse. Green Sky was third in a Listed fillies' juvenile hurdle at Doncaster on better ground, so has to enter calculations in the first-time hood. Instant Tendance hasn't finished out of the first three in her last five races and will be gunning for victory having been beaten into second when odds-on favourite at Navan. Me Wee Bonnie Lass is two from three and shouldn't be underestimated despite a slightly underwhelming effort at Limerick over Christmas.

ATR VERDICT: BREAK THE BOUNDARY could make an impact on his hurdling debut. He's a point-to-point winner (on decent ground) who made his track debut in a hunters chase at Cork where he was outgunned in second by a short-priced favourite who was formerly a classy sort. TheFlyingbee has some useful bumper form and could build upon a fifth place over flights in Fairyhouse. Confidential Gossip is a half-sister to a horse who has won twice over hurdles and this newcomer represents a strong stable in a weak race, while Kimjoy was far from disgraced in sixth on debut in a big field at Navan. The market expected Charlie Buckettt to make a winning debut over hurdles at Thurles in January, but he disappointed in fifth. He has changed stables since then, so a watching brief may be best.

ATR VERDICT: CARDINAL ZIN filled the runner-up spot twice on testing ground last season including behind the impressive Look At The Stars at Listowel. The Willie McCreery-trained gelding now makes his handicap debut and gets the vote over Emerald Eclipse who was well-backed when placed on both starts at Dundalk earlier this year. Basilah Bear won a nursery at Naas over this trip and also performed with credit on heavy ground. Blue Soul has been mainly campaigned at Dundalk and comes here off a decent second to Galician Girl last month.

Watch out for: EMERALD ECLIPSE (2)
