ATR VERDICT: THE PIPER'S CALL ran a big race in a Curragh maiden on debut when sent to post a massive price and this looks like a nice opportunity for him. The Ten Sovereigns colt chased home Flushing Meadows last month and that form looks strong with the winner narrowly denied in a Group 3 contest subsequently. The third horse, North Coast, has won his maiden easily since. Ger Lyons saddles two contenders and it's no surprise to see him claim 7lb off Down Royal winner Sir Alfie as he was set to carry a welter burden. That Dark Angel colt can confirm form with stablemate Howd'yadoit, who was behind him in third last time.

ATR VERDICT: COME ON OVER improved on his debut fifth to finish third at Carlisle last month and is likely to have lots of improvement in him. Richard Fahey's colt could put that experience to good use and looks the one to beat. Mission Classified has shown plenty of ability in both of his starts to date and is one to take seriously, while Mo Of Cairo is another to keep an eye on.

ATR VERDICT: BLUE BOLT is a filly on the upgrade and her two wins in novice stakes could be just the start of a highly interesting campaign. The daughter of Blue Point holds an entry in the Group 1 Matron Stakes at Leopardstown in September and can enhance her credentials by taking this step up in class in her stride. Cajole's second-placed finish in the Sandringham at Royal Ascot is a solid piece of form that makes her the chief danger to the selection. The unbeaten pair Victory Queen and Suite Francaise are other intriguing options.

ATR VERDICT: OMBUDSMAN left his comeback run well behind when running away with the Prince Of Wales's Stakes at Royal Ascot 17 days ago, making it five wins from six career outings to date. It's easy to see why Godolphin's improving four-year-old has been all the rage with the bookmakers in the build-up to today's contest and he's fancied to land the spoils. Any rainfall would boost the chances of Sosie, who arrives following a couple of Group 1 victories in his native France. Delacroix could fare best of Aidan O'Brien's duo, while Ruling Court is an interesting player stretching out in trip.

ATR VERDICT: DAVVY shed his maiden tag at Redcar prior to running flat and being well beaten at Chester last month. David Evans' youngster could bounce back from that effort and he sets the standard with an official rating of 72. Mare Of London possibly regressed from her third at Kempton when fifth at Brighton in May, but this looks easier and she ought to have a say. Gullane Girl completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: Back to form with a creditable third at Epsom in a race that has worked out well since, RHOSCOLYN could be primed to return to winning ways off a mark 1lb lower than his most recent success at Goodwood last September. Gorak has strong claims if bouncing back to the form of his second over C&D two starts ago, while Photosynthesis has done well since joining the Peter Chapple-Hyam yard and looks worthy of the rise in grade. Northern Express and King's Lynn cannot be ruled out either.
