ATR VERDICT: It is difficult to look past FRONT LINE FURY, who is 2lb well-in under a penalty having bolted up on his nursery bow at Haydock last week. The strength of that form is up for debate, but the progressive youngster should have more in his locker. At the foot of the handicap, Proof is interesting now stepped up to 6f after looking outpaced at the minimum trip latest. Sayidah Hard Spun is most appealing of the remaining duo.

ATR VERDICT: SAYIDAH DARIYAN still holds untapped potential and tops the shortlist after her highly creditable fourth-placed finish in the Commonwealth Cup at Royal Ascot. That is arguably the strongest piece of recent form available and dropping in class could be just the ticket for Richard Hughes' low-mileage filly. Electric Storm surely has a decent race within her reach and is dangerous to underestimate. However, three-year-olds have been dominant in this race of late and the likes of First Instinct and Celandine could take advantage of their weight-for-age allowance to pose stronger threats to the selection.

Top Tip: SAYIDAH DARIYAN (12)
Watch out for: FIRST INSTINCT (9)

ATR VERDICT: Story Horse has to be of interest, having gone close in a competitive handicap at Goodwood when beaten only a neck. The winner went on to win over 1m6f at Royal Ascot last month, with ENDLESS VICTORY back in seventh, but that was the latter's first outing since February. Charlie Appleby's charge caught the eye doing his best work at the finish and he should have plenty more to offer over this distance. Dancing In Paris drops in trip after finishing an admirable second in the Northumberland Plate, while Insanity is not out of it either.

ATR VERDICT: Bosa Nova scored gamely on her debut at Chepstow and is respected as the only previous winner in the race. However, this looks deeper and the concession of 4lb to the rest is persuasive enough to look towards the newcomers for the outright winner. The well-related Secret Echo is bred to have an impact and is one of the first to consider representing an in-form yard. However, the trip could be a stumbling block and AYLIN, a half-sister to a couple of wining sprinters, shades the vote on the basis of 6f potentially being more suitable at this early stage.

ATR VERDICT: Crimson Advocate (winner), Cinderella's Dream (second) and Running Lion (fourth) are all set to lock horns again having met in the Duke Of Cambridge at Royal Ascot. They look certain to play a role once again but, in receipt of the weight-for-age allowance, JANUARY could be too strong. Aidan O'Brien's filly finished a highly-creditable third in the Coronation Stakes, a race which probably wasn't run to suit. The daughter of Kingman is still progressing and a well-deserved success at the top table could await. Elwateen struggled in the Oaks having seemingly not handled Epsom, but she retains potential and should not be written off at a big price.

ATR VERDICT: Having put his fifth-placed defeat at Newbury behind him when landing a 20-runner affair over C&D the following day, Dawn Of Liberation warrants respect in his bid to secure a fourth triumph in his last five outings. However, a 9lb hike could leave the son of Churchill vulnerable, with preference for the down-in-class CLASSIC ENCOUNTER. The four-year-old arrives on the back of a respectable fourth at Sandown and he may regain the winning thread. Financer is also noted.
