ATR VERDICT: ANGELIGHT may have been undone by the combination of soft ground and an extended 1m1f at Gowran last time and a reproduction of her previous close fourth over a mile at Naas may be good enough. The form of that race has been working out quite well and she is now fitted with blinkers. Marlborough Place made a pleasing debut when third to Cold Hearted at the Curragh last month and the benefit of that experience plus this step up in trip should see him go close. Raykir has posted three consistent runs and, like the selection, connections now reach for headgear.

ATR VERDICT: Armed with a 13lb weight-for-age allowance and the potential to make good progress now he steps up to 1m6f, TREMORGIO is very tempting on these terms. Assuming he handles the stalls better than he did at Salisbury on his handicap debut last month, the son of Dubawi can readily build on that second-placed finish to a now 89-rated opponent. Creatif and Clockmaker are suggested as the main threats to the selection, although it would be dangerous to underestimate the front-running La Pulga, who is on a winning mark and can make this a searching test.

ATR VERDICT: ROMIEU looked desperately unfortunate not to win at Newcastle recently, having been denied a clear run for much of the final two furlongs. He kept on into second and is very interesting from an unchanged mark, especially with talented apprentice Elizabeth Gale booked to ride. Archivist made a successful start to his handicap career over the mile here a fortnight ago so appeals under the penalty. C&D winner Thunder Run isn't berthed favourably but he can't be underestimated, while others to note include See That Storm and Ancient Rome.

ATR VERDICT: ORANGE SKY made a strong impression when scoring on her handicap debut at Newmarket last month and now has a 8lb higher rating to contend with. The daughter of No Nay Never looks to have lots in her favour and can continue her progression. Chiringita boasts a similar profile after making her first start in a handicap a victorious one at Sandown and she could have a say, despite being 5lb higher. Star Of Dubai is the pick of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: Al Qareem was an impressive winner of the Grand Cup over C&D a month ago and Karl Burke's gelding has to be respected once again. That said, marginal preference is for TABLETALK, who remains unexposed over this sort of trip and won the Melrose at this venue last season. He was far from disgraced in the Hardwicke last time and will find this easier. Samui and Subsequent are others to consider.

ATR VERDICT: Runner-up on each of his last three starts, GAME POINT can record a deserved success. The Ger Lyons-trained son of Blue Point went closer than ever before last time, when going down by a neck in a big field at the Curragh on Derby weekend. Almost certainly just unfortunate to bump into a couple of decent rivals, there looks to be nothing wrong with his attitude. From a family that have done well on the all-weather, he could easily improve for this surface. Lombardi Trophy, who finished behind the selection at Leopardstown in April, looks the chief threat once again. Carthusian may also be capable of improvement in first-time blinkers.

L'Eagle Aid returned the determined winner at Newcastle and will likely remain competitive, while Percy Jones drops back in trip with a shout.

John Jenkins' six-year-old has drawn the inside rail here and another bold bid from the front is anticipated only 2lb higher than his Windsor success. South Parade enters calculations off her current mark back in this lower grade, while Street Life had been in fine fettle before disappointing at Haydock and could bounce back.
