ATR VERDICT: This is competitive for the grade and several are notable. Twilight Madness is well handicapped based on his peak form. However, he hasn't won on turf since July 2021 and isn't without risk. Merrimack has much more recent winning form to his name and could have a say if he handles the forecast going. However, preference is for proven mudlark SUB THIRTEEN, who runs off 4lb below his last winning mark.

Top Tip: SUB THIRTEEN (5)

ATR VERDICT: Bravo Hotel hasn't been seen since May but he sets a fair standard with an official rating of 77, although the draw hasn't been kind to him and it might be best to look elsewhere with that in mind. QUANTUM POWER made a pleasing introduction at Southwell before taking a step forward to fill the runner-up spot at Ripon most recently. He has raced freely on both starts and this drop in trip could hold the key. Noelies Dream is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: Having looked close to his best when runner-up at Southwell two weeks ago, JESSE LUC could be poised to strike. The five-year-old makes plenty of appeal off an unchanged mark and he's fancied to repel Wild Clary. Richard Hannon's inmate appeared to find 7f stretched his stamina at Kempton a fortnight ago and shouldn't be underestimated. Kosometsuke also looks capable of better.

Top Tip: JESSE LUC (6)

ATR VERDICT: ESNA, a daughter of top-class sprinter Starman and a half-sister to five winners, posted an encouraging second to a potentially useful prospect when she was introduced over C&D 18 days ago. Midnight Bandit and Shadowmere were less eye-catching on their respective debuts and need to improve. Therefore, Morshdi, a full-brother to Group 2 winner Nakheel, could be a bigger danger.

ATR VERDICT: OPHELIA GRACE hit the woodwork over C&D on her debut and probably didn't need to improve too much at Southwell next time, where she came home best of all to record an emphatic success. The daughter of Starman must shoulder a penalty but is clearly comfortable at this venue and with any further improvement, she might prove tough to beat. The Jaber Abdullah-owned pair Tea Queen and Lady Youmzain must be given respect on their debuts.

ATR VERDICT: ZIGHY has acquitted herself with credit in both outings to date and this could prove a suitable opportunity to shed her maiden tag. A reproduction of the Mehmas filly's latest third over C&D could prove sufficient. Lelosaja offered encouragement on her debut third at Southwell last month and she's feared most, although market support for newcomer Albaydaa would be interesting.

ATR VERDICT: ACCREDIT is probably the safe play and this could be straightforward if he builds on his debut third posted over 7f here last month. A son of Dubawi out of a winning half-sister to Oaks and dual Arc winner Enable, his pedigree is out of the top drawer. Hatteen has a less auspicious profile but could beat Plan C for second.

ATR VERDICT: A chance can be taken on COTTON BUD, who attracted sustained market support at Goodwood on her racecourse bow last month. Inexperience ultimately took its toll as she finished well beaten, but the Cloth Of Stars filly should find this easier and progress looks a real possibility. Lady Hornblower must shoulder a penalty having been on target over C&D last time but although respected, Elizabethetty might pose a greater threat in receipt of weight.

ATR VERDICT: Roger Varian has trained two of the last six winners of this race and it would be no surprise to see FAR FAR OUT add his name to the roll of honour. The son of Kingman is out of a mare who was Listed-placed over 1m4f and he could make a big impact on his debut. Pandemonium cost 375,000gns as a yearling so is sure to attract plenty of support. King Of Berkshire changed hands for 145,000 euros and has to enter the equation as well.
