ATR VERDICT: ERNIE'S VALENTINE has produced a consistent level of form since winning at Chelmsford in September and apprentice rider Phoebe Edwards gets on well with him. Ross Burdon's charge landed the corresponding event 12 months ago from this mark too, and he could do so once again at the expense of Tadreeb, who is sure to appreciate an ease in class. H Key Lails is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: This isn't the deepest of contests and it might pay to side with REHILL RELIC. A faller on his chasing bow before running with credit at Southwell next time, the son of Mahler could be capable of better and wouldn't need to find stacks of improvement. Lunar Ocean was largely consistent over fences last term and makes more appeal than most and, despite a lacklustre effort at Bangor, it would be unwise to dismiss Gwennie May Jem with Sean Bowen in the plate.

ATR VERDICT: BATHGATE has flourished lately and could be well placed to follow up after winning cosily at Sedgefield a couple of weeks ago. Given he wasn't fully extended to win that race, a 6lb higher rating should be manageable if a third run in December doesn't take a toll. John Betjeman defeated the selection by a length and a half at the same venue last month and can be a thorn in his side again, although he is 8lb higher. Gemini Man and Gonnino are each-way options.

ATR VERDICT: Pulled up over fences in October, EBSELYSEES showed the benefit of that pipe-opener when finishing a resolute second back over the smaller obstacles here last month. This shorter trip shouldn't be an issue, given she landed a novice hurdle over C&D last term, and she gets the vote. Little Pi also posted a better effort reverting to hurdles at Hereford, while the unexposed handicap-debutant Kenzoko is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: SPECIAL RATE failed to fire in a valuable event at Cartmel when last seen in June, but his previous third at the same venue gives him a big chance in a race of this nature. Swallows Song could make the frame if finding some improvement for first-time cheekpieces, while Too Cool Forshrule and Inis Oirr are others to keep an eye on.

ATR VERDICT: A top-class performer on the Flat, AMBIENTE FRIENDLY opened his account over timber with a hard fought success over C&D. He showed a willing attitude on that occasion, and James Owen's charge could prove better than his opening mark now handicapping. Across Earth returned the decisive winner at Sandown, despite a couple of mistakes, and will be hard to keep out of the frame with any further improvement. Frontier Prince placed at Cheltenham last time and is not out of this either.

ATR VERDICT: LEADER WING was only beaten a short-head when second over C&D earlier in the month and the first-time application of a visor can help the five-year-old to go one better on this occasion, despite a 3lb rise. Beat The Retreat scored at Ayr three weeks ago and another good run can be expected here, while Lizzie Luna is best of the rest.

ATR VERDICT: TOUQUET expended a lot of energy by running freely at Lingfield last week but that third-placed effort still reads well in the context of this race. The Nick Gifford-trained six-year-old is worth another chance from the same mark, with a first-time tongue-tie tried. Electric Eddy and Forcetoreckonwith also ran zestfully on their latest starts and are other solid options to monitor in the betting. Catchim, who is a likely pace angle, drops in trip and is another to consider.

ATR VERDICT: Bintazzo gave notice she could be winning soon when narrowly beaten here last time, while Enough Already also posted a better effort when a close third at this track a fortnight ago. However, both will need to improve further to get the better of TOMMY'S PROMISE in his current form. An easy winner at Chelmsford, he landed a brace with another emphatic victory over C&D a week ago and the hat-trick beckons for John Ryan's charge.

ATR VERDICT: AMERICAN FLIGHT made every yard over 6f at Kempton to land a treble. The daughter of Starspangledbanner reverts to the minimum trip raised only 3lb and George Boughey's progressive filly may not have finished winning yet. Beach ParTEE is hard to catch right, but has a shout if producing one of his better efforts, while U S S Charleston finished a close fourth over C&D on his all-weather debut in October and could be in the mix.

Top Tip: AMERICAN FLIGHT (1)

Long Handicap: Rogue Thunder 8 - 8

ATR VERDICT: Gustav Graves has been thereabouts since recording last month's seventh course victory and could shape well again. However, WEDGEWOOD looks more attractively handicapped. Tony Carroll's sprinter scored here in April and holds every chance given a recent pipe-opener at Lingfield is likely to have brought her on a great deal. Forever Noah drops in trip with a shout and could prove pick of the remainder.

Long Handicap: Coast 8 - 8

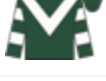

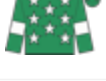

ATR VERDICT: Papa Don't Preach hasn't tasted success since October 2024 but is now back to that winning mark after his respectable fourth at Kempton, so he is one to watch out for. Last-time-out C&D scorer Street Life boasts obvious claims, but it may pay to side with BLUEBELLS BOY. Hayley Burton's gelding produced another solid effort when third at Chelmsford on Thursday and could be rewarded for his consistency on this occasion.

ATR VERDICT: It's a surprise to see Caramay take a drop in distance after her good performance to score over 1m4f at Southwell recently, but she does travel as if she will cope with it. Even so, BINT AL DAAR looks the way to go. Kevin Frost's two-time C&D winner finished a close third behind Lady Of Arabia (winner) at Chelmsford at the start of the month but competes off better terms this time around.

Top Tip: BINT AL DAAR (8)
Watch out for: CARAMAY (7)
