ATR VERDICT: MA JACKS HILL struggled to land a blow in a Grade 3 at Navan last month but warrants the utmost respect now running in handicap company for the first time with blinkers applied. Others for the shortlist in this competitive affair are Philip Rothwell's Give Him A Chance, three-time winner Sunny South West and recent well-backed Fairyhouse victor Fierce Handay.

Top Tip: MA JACKS HILL (3)

Watch out for: GIVE HIM A CHANCE (8)

ATR VERDICT: TIDDESLEY WOOD built on his promising hurdles bow at Aintree when opening his account at Windsor last month. The five-year-old looks capable of better and he edges the vote in a tricky contest. Doctor Blue shares the same official rating as the selection and, despite carrying top weight, must enter the reckoning. Huntingdon winner Draco Malfoy adds further spice to the mix.

Top Tip: TIDDESLEY WOOD (4)

ATR VERDICT: JOEBEL has won five of his last six starts and even a 10lb rise for his 17-length success at Plumpton last time may still underestimate Chris Gordon's six-year-old. Pleasington disappointed over 2m4f at Aintree most recently but he should not be written off back in distance, while Mon Champion edges out Old Cowboy to be the pick of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: THEY WANT ME chased home the recent Grade 1 winner Idaho Sun on his hurdling debut at Bangor in November and it would be no surprise to see him go one better in this company. That said, They're Chancers won his only bumper start and has to be noted on his first outing over timber, while Party In The Park and Lance Les Des are next best.

ATR VERDICT: WEST OF BALLY was an easy winner over a similar trip here last month and this looks like a nice opportunity to follow up. The Eric McNamara-trained gelding doesn't look harshly treated now off a mark of 114. Minella Diamond has some solid form in strong maiden hurdles and he could be the danger. Oaks Soldier is unexposed and he looks one to note on his handicap debut.

ATR VERDICT: Willie Mullins appears to hold all the aces, with the upwardly mobile SPINDLEBERRY preferred over her stable companion Fun Fun Fun. The latter is a multiple pattern-race winner that is surely better than she managed when returning from a break at Punchestown last month. However, Spindleberry is undefeated over fences so far and would be hard to beat if replicating anything like the performance she posted when landing a Grade 1 at Fairyhouse as a novice in April. Paggane, who chases a Listed-race three-timer, is the obvious pick of the rest.
