ATR VERDICT: SENATOR built on a promising British/hurdling debut to fill the runner-up spot at Chepstow three weeks ago and could be hard to beat if improving again. My Kinda Ghaiy probably took a backward step at Wetherby but it's far too early to be writing him off, as it is with Nicky Henderson's Macshadow Des Crai, who didn't run too badly at Ascot.

Top Tip: SENATOR (7)

ATR VERDICT: Watamu was getting 7lb from Khrisma when holding on for a narrow win at Huntingdon and she's likely to struggle to confirm that form but, even so, preference is for GETAWHISKY. Dan Skelton's mare fell at Ascot in November, but put that behind her to record a cosy success at Windsor and it's quite possible that she'll find further progress. Chepstow winner Charisma Cat arrives with a fair chance, and don't rule out Edith Pelham, who made a pleasing hurdles debut at Warwick.

ATR VERDICT: QUEBECOIS was out of his depth in a Grade 2 at Sandown, but that performance is sandwiched between a couple of promising seconds. The latest saw him denied by the narrowest of margins on Trials Day at Cheltenham and he can boost his confidence before a potential return there next month. Personal Ambition has lost his way, but the application of blinkers could help him recapture the form that saw him claim Grade 2 glory as a novice hurdler. Old Cowboy struck over C&D before a Kempton fall, but concedes weight to higher-rated opponents.

ATR VERDICT: Florita made it two from three over fences when keeping her unbeaten course record intact recently. She does have stamina to prove at this longer trip, though, so it might be wiser to side with ALLTALKNOACTION. The six-year-old hit the woodwork over C&D on Boxing Day but did pull well clear with the winner, meaning a 4lb rise could be lenient. Alice Stevens got a tune out of Worth The Walk last time and she won't be far away if reproducing those levels.

ATR VERDICT: TALAKAN has taken well to jumping and built on his Ascot third when touched off at Ludlow. The Toby Lawes-trained juvenile receives weight all round and can continue his forward momentum. Lancelot Allen has been off since beating just one home in the Champion Bumper, but his Bangor defeat of a now 118-rated hurdler makes him of interest on his return. Galashiels and Fouroneohfever are decent Flat recruits who are getting the hang of hurdling, while Giantsgrave is much better than he showed at Ffos Las.

Top Tip: TALAKAN (12)

ATR VERDICT: Although the strength of the form is up for debate, MADAME LUNA is now three out of three and that should not be underestimated. The daughter of Sea The Moon steps into handicaps from a mark of 110, which looks fair, and her jumping is a real asset. Railway Bell went clear up the run-in at Ludlow so is likely to do even better upped in trip. The hat-trick seeking Snowrocco might still be ahead of the handicapper, despite a further 9lb hike.

Top Tip: MADAME LUNA (8)

ATR VERDICT: SWINDON VILLAGE accounted for a subsequent winner at Leicester and then acquitted himself well behind two smart prospects at Windsor. Charlie Longsdon's inmate has been given a couple of Cheltenham engagements and while that may be flying too high at present, he is promising. Bobby's Nelson is in the Turners at the Festival and is the logical danger following his deserved breakthrough at Ffos Las. Boultydoolin cost 95,000 pounds after winning an Irish point-to-point and has been given a speculative Albert Bartlett entry.

Olly Murphy's six-year-old has had to settle for second as favourite on his last two appearances, but he lost nothing in defeat and is fancied to break through. Tzarmix is holding his form well, and Aire Spray shouldn't be far away either.

ATR VERDICT: The application of cheekpieces (retained) worked the oracle for MAJOR FORTUNE at Wincanton and he is fancied to repeat the dose from 5lb higher. Brave Kingdom made a bold bid from the front at Taunton and is more than capable of another big run. Havaila finished third at Windsor to Neo King, who went on to post a fine effort in the Grand National Trial at Haydock. With that in mind, he could be the biggest threat.

He hasn't been quite as effective in this sphere, but is able to compete from the mark from which he struck at Wetherby most recently and can take full advantage. ATR VERDICT: Freeriding has a speedy Flat pedigree so while the trip has to be a slight concern, Olly Murphy has a good record in bumpers here so she commands attention. Even so, JESSMARVEL showed a decent level of ability when fifth at Aintree, with a couple of those in front of him tackling Listed company next time.
