ATR VERDICT: Although second on his last three outings, KOCKTAIL BLEU has done little wrong and compensation could be on the cards. A reproduction of his latest effort in the Dovecote may be enough for him to get the better of chief threat Lisbane Park. Joe Tizzard's inmate arrives on the back of a narrow defeat at Exeter and he's likely to be in the thick of the action once more. Hurdling debutant Gambino is the pick of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: One of three Gavin Cromwell-trained representatives in the line-up, BEGORRA MAN gets the nod. The choice of Keith Donoghue, his debut effort behind Kopek Des Bordes at Leopardstown in 2024 is a particularly eye-catching piece of form. Second of four on his return from nearly a year off at Punchestown last month, he can be expected to step forward from that effort. Gordon Elliott also saddles three, with Famous Figure appearing the pick of them. Successful in a bumper when in the care of Pat Fahey, he was second of 16 at Naas recently. Elliott's Newbrook Diamond (first-time blinkers) also warrants the utmost respect, with Kilgame, Munsif and hurdling debutant Chopsticks other leading hopes.

ATR VERDICT: Having travelled with verve when lifting his second Greatwood Gold Cup over C&D, HELTENHAM may take some stopping in his bid to land this race for the third time. The runner-up subsequently franked the form with a close-up fourth in the Ultima, while the third scored at Kempton. Prairie Wolf regained the winning thread at Newcastle last month and may serve the most resistance to the selection, ahead of Knappers Hill, who lurks on an attractive mark.
