ATR VERDICT: The winner of three of his last five start, HATAMOTO remains on a workable mark and has enough scope to brush aside a 2lb rise for his most recent win in a similar handicap at Thirsk. Fellow last-time-out winners Finn Ironside and Emery Down are other strong contenders, while the low-mileage Rousham is a previous C&D winner that could also have a big say on these terms. The consistent Luminous Warrior also warrants a betting check on just his second start for Christopher Kellett.

Top Tip: HATAMOTO (8)

ATR VERDICT: AL JOLSON made a promising start when beaten a neck at Southwell and that experience is likely to bring the Crisfords' colt forward in his development. Who's The Goat and Classy Night also have the benefit of experience to draw upon and are forwarded as the chief threats to the selection, with the former feared the most dropping in trip after his third at Pontefract.

ATR VERDICT: Lucky Hero has made great strides since stepping up to 1m2f, winning over C&D and at Newmarket most recently. He's 10lb higher now and can't be underestimated despite a rise in grade, but THUNDER WONDER is preferred. Charlie Johnston's gelding was a real eyecatcher at Glorious Goodwood because after being hampered and detached soon after the start he flew home to finish a creditable fifth. This isn't as competitive and he can gain compensation from an unchanged mark. Fox Avatar is also noted.

ATR VERDICT: Rain-softened ground conditions might have counted against GETAWAY JEWEL when unable to follow up on his Worcester victory at Cartmel recently. The veteran is still more than capable at this level and often runs well here. Dexter finished third to the selection three weeks ago and a 1lb nudge up in the handicap shouldn't prevent another solid effort, while American Empire is a potential improver on his fencing bow.

ATR VERDICT: Having been denied by just a short head over 2m1f here recently, Glory And Honour is high on the shortlist. Although a return to 2m4f shouldn't pose any issues for the Elusive Pimpernel gelding, LORIKO looks more progressive. The five-year-old has scored three times this season and he ticks plenty of the right boxes. Ladies Day is having only her second start in handicap company and isn't easily dismissed.

ATR VERDICT: FIGHTING TEARS was heavily supported when scoring on her debut at the Curragh and can be expected to take a step forward. Both the selection and Zoar have each defeated subsequent winner Roeillaun to open their accounts but although the latter merits respect, he must concede 14lb to Andy Oliver's filly on this occasion. 99-rated The Scallionator finished fourth in the Railway Stakes before struggling in the Phoenix Stakes and though eased in grade now, he isn't open to as much improvement as the aforementioned pair.

ATR VERDICT: MARCO POLO flopped in the Gimcrack at York but he drops considerably in class and remains open to further progress. The Night Of Thunder colt finished second to a subsequent Group 3 winner on his debut at the Curragh and whilst he disappointed at York, it's possible that the race came a little too soon for him. Revelator is a half-brother to a Listed-placed juvenile and while he has shown some promise so far, he will probably need to find considerable improvement to score. Tennesspeed is also noted.

ATR VERDICT: GERRIT'S GEM is a three-time course winner who posted an improved display at the Curragh on his latest start. The six-year-old has dropped 14lb in the handicap since May of last year and whilst held in third last time, Jack Clearly is now able to utilise his 5lb claim. Five-time winner Jon Riggins scored at Navan recently and is respected with conditions likely to suit. Grande Curvee makes her handicap debut following three placed efforts in maidens, while All The Girls is able to operate from a much reduced mark on the turf relative to her all-weather rating.
