ATR VERDICT: Although somewhat disappointing when only fourth on his most recent outing at Windsor, Bulletsnap may have suffered from racing up the centre. William Haggas' colt should be in the mix if replicating his earlier form, but SCENIC ROUTE rates as the most solid proposition. The son of Sioux Nation arrives on the back of a good third in class 2 company at York and this looks easier. Time To Play is the pick of the remainder.

ATR VERDICT: Although thwarted in her hat-trick bid when fourth at Kempton earlier this month, FOREST BERRY still looks capable of better. The Waldgeist filly had to make her effort earlier than ideal and this small-field affair may see her in a better light. Nursery debutant Palace Legacy is heading in the right direction judged on his latest second at Leicester and he's feared most, ahead of Aphra Behn.

ATR VERDICT: EYE OF DUBAI was fitted with blinkers for the first time at Ayr last week and resumed winning ways in the Bronze Cup. The son of Havana Grey bids to win this for the third time in succession and, competing off the same mark as last year, another bold bid looks in the offing. Dark Thirty faces an easier task than of late and is one to take seriously, while the recent Windsor third Indian Run may well reverse running on better terms with the winner Trefor.
